NINETEEN HUNDRED AND SIXTY-TWO

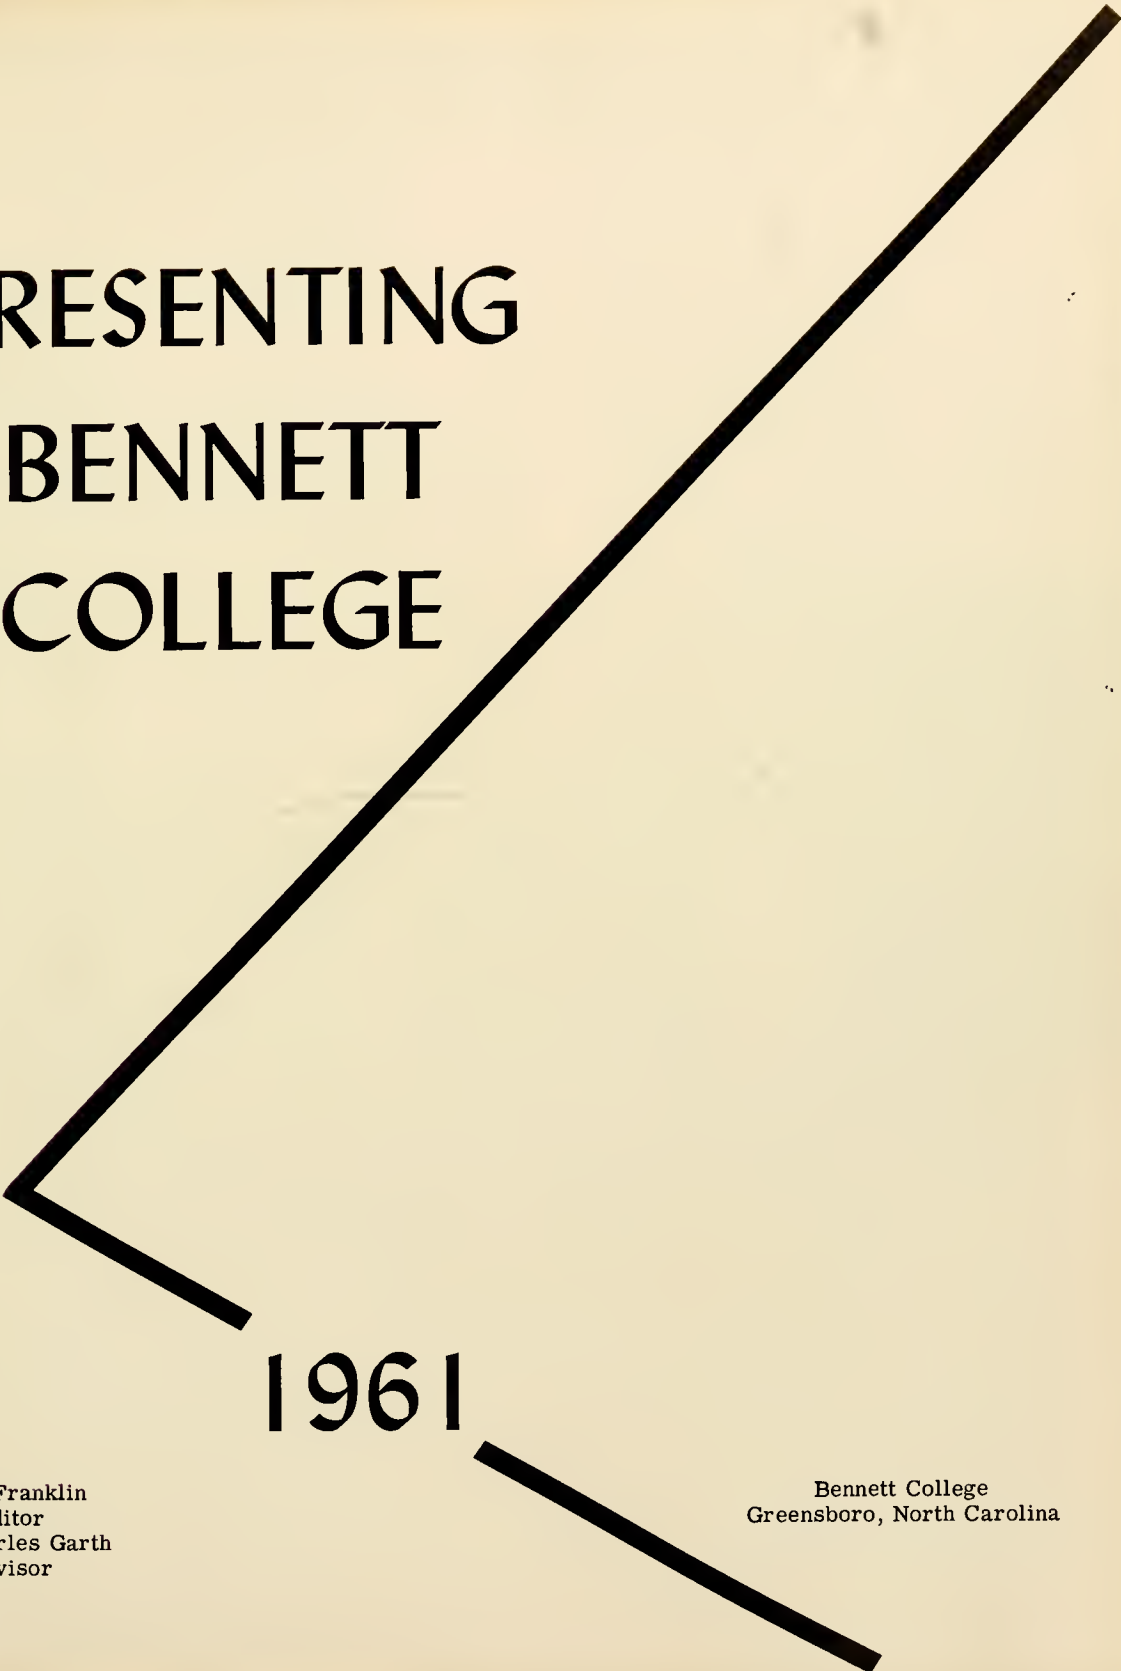

April 30, 1962

To Dr. Willa B. Player:

This is the first edition of The Bennett College Yearbook, 1961-62, compliments of the junior class and the yearbook staff.

I hope as you view this first pictorial account of the life at Bennett you will be constantly reminded of the unyielding determination of everyone concerned to produce something that would be memorable and cherished by the Bennett family in the years to come.

Here Is Bennett College . . .

Our Home
Away From Home . . .

In words and pictures
here is a review of the events and activities of 1961-'62

Here are the scenes
so familiar

We'll always remember the countless hours . . .

of study . . .

or relaxation when we had a few free moments

It begins with Freshman week . . .

When some two hundred students descend on the campus . . .
to shatter the tranquility which has lasted since the close of school . . .

Dormitories begin to fill up . . .

Offices come alive with students registering for courses . . .

Paying bills . . .

Meeting their Advisor . . .

Student leaders get helpful hints from visiting counselors on how to make the freshman feel at home . . .

The new students get their first taste of what is to follow during the next nine months . . .

The bookstore does
big business in books
and other supplies . . .

Freshman stage
their big talent
show before a very critical audience of Upperclassmen . . .

Always on hand are members of the Personnel Department to lend a hand to the still somewhat bewildered new students . . .

Student meets dorm director . . .

Roommate meets roommate . . .

And in the weeks
that follow, many
other meetings
take place . . .

Faculty meet students . . .

And in the classroom students meet teacher . . .

New friendships
are formed . . .

Some like those which come through study
sessions, may be casual . . .

Others may not be so casual . . .

September turns to October, and soon things become routine, but there's always the spice of
numerous events
and activities to make life interesting
and constantly
busy . . .

Founders Day . . .

The white breakfast
at Thanksgiving time

Daily chapel is another of these memories to carry away . . .

And after chapel, onto
the next class . . .

And so it goes, winter to spring . . .

Study sessions
in the library . . .

Chapel Speakers . . .

Little Theatre Productions . . .

A year of . . .

Work . . .

Study . . .

Play . . .

For some June meant departing . . .

It was a year filled with many pleasant experiences, many interesting and likeable people — the Bennett family — people we'll never forget.

Yearbook Staff

Jean Franklin - Editor

In keeping with the traditions of Bennett College, the yearbook staff has compiled a varied account of Bennett life. Composed of representatives from the junior class the staff has attempted to do its best in spite of the many hours of hard work spent in preparation, and the anticipations and the unexpected difficulties that seemed to arise. It is the hope of all members that this record will prove to be a constant reminder of the 1961-1962 year spent at Bennett College.

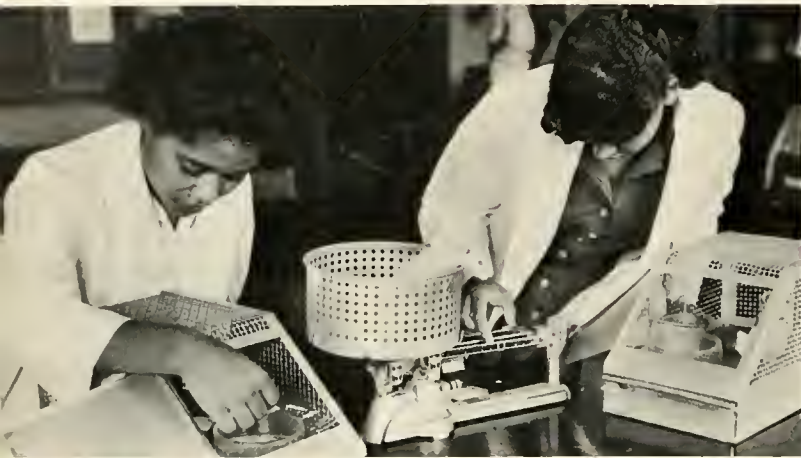

Yearbook Staff - Elena Chapman, LaForrest Williams, Betty Jo Murphy and Sylvia Fish.

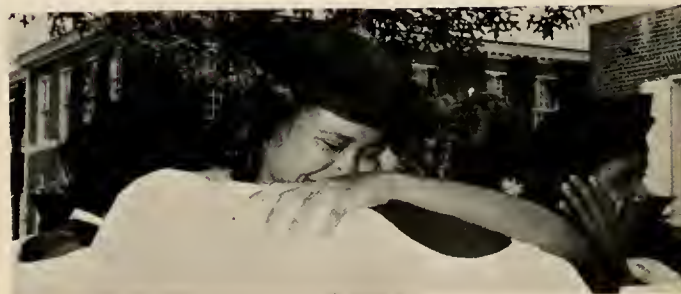

Mae Young - Photography
Bonita Davis - Business Manager

Just Scenes

Editor's Note

Perhaps the four years an individual spends in college are the most cherished and impressive years of his life. Realizing this, the Yearbook Staff has tried to capture some of the outstanding events of the year and immortalize them in the yearbook.

However, in a larger sense, it is difficult-even impossible-to preserve many of the memorable events of the years because they are intangible. The sisterly atmosphere which permeated the campus during freshman week, the subtle atmosphere or anxiety which hovered over the campus during the final exams, and many of the philosophically unsound and logically weak confabs of the dormitory "summits" are mere examples of college life which successfully eluded the photographer's camera. Nevertheless, we have managed to capture a small sample of the events destined to remain with us forever.

As editor of the Bennett College Yearbook, I have experienced the psychological and sociological successes and failures which must inevitably be the lot of one who would assume and execute a delegated responsibility. It is my sincere hope that this first edition of the Bennett College Yearbook will serve as an index to the earnestness with which I have attempted to execute this responsibility.

To our predecessors, contemporaries, and posterity, we dedicate this edition of the Bennett College Yearbook. It is our sincere hope that the efforts which are made manifest in this book will serve as a source of dedication, inspiration and aspiration to our readers.
